FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ)

What if a learner cannot complete the course in the given time?

Learners can re-apply for the incomplete units at a nominal fee and continue until completion. Frontier offers the best intervention strategies to prevent this situation and ensure that all learners are able to complete the course in the specified time.

Can learners withdraw from the course after enrolment?

After enrolling for a course, you get a 5 day cooling off period to decide if you wish to continue with the classes and units. If you withdraw in this period, you get a full refund minus $250 payable towards the administrative costs.

A learner is not eligible for any refund in case of withdrawal if:

- The learner has enrolled for a short course
- The learner withdraws during the course delivery period

What if a learner misses scheduled classes?

Recorded classes are available for students to make up for missed classes. Our supportive faculty will also help you cope with any difficulties that you have with units as a result of missed classes.

Do you offer credit transfer for units completed elsewhere?

You can transfer course credits for any previously attained, equivalent units within your current enrolment. You can also transfer credits if the training packages that you have completed earlier are equivalent to the current units as per the Training Package Guidelines.
